For sale. A 65-acre farm 1 1/2 miles from this city on the East Montpelier road. Good buildings and house large enough for two families. A fine place for party wishing to work in Barre part of the time. Ten minutes' ride to work. Price low, terms easy. Inquire of the D. A. Perry Real Estate agency.

What do you think of this? A 250-acre farm for sale, two miles from Greenfield on Baptist street. Good set of buildings, one barn being new. Produces from 80 to 100 tons of hay. Sugar bush of 1,000 trees. Will keep 40 cows. Wood enough to pay for farm. Price, $3,000. This is a bargain. Inquire of the D. A. Perry Real Estate agency.

Two quaint and entertaining Scotch characters furnish much of the comedy element in "The Call of the North," the new comedy drama in which Paul Gilmore will make his first appearance at the Barre opera house this evening, Sept. 23. These two Scotchmen are bachelors and have made a compact to remain single and to shun all "weemin." Which ever one surrenders first to a fair charmer is to give the other three hundred dollars. A dashing widow comes to the trading post away up on Hindon bay, where these two Scotchmen are located, and they both fall victims to her coquetry. The efforts of each to keep his secret from the other and their discomfiture when they learn that both have been duped furnish many laughable incidents in the play.
